Proudly Presents an evening with

ELLIOT TIBER

APRIL 14, 2011
6:30 pm

The Museum of Tolerance is very proud to host an evening with celebrated gay memoirist and humorist Elliot Tiber. Mr. Tiber, whose first memoir TAKING WOODSTOCK was made into an acclaimed motion picture by BROKEBACK MOUNTAIN director Ang Lee, has now written a “prequel” memoir called PALM TREES ON THE HUDSON: A True Story of the Mob, Judy Garland, & Interior Decorating.

PALM TREES ON THE HUDSON has already received excellent critical reviews from Kirkus Reviews (“a humorous tale”); Publishers Weekly (“balances belly laughs and sincere emotion”); BookPleasures.com (“[a] rags-to-riches-and-back-again riveter”); Feathered Quill Book Reviews (“supremely fantastic writing”); and South Florida Gay News (“flows so lyrically it should come as no surprise to learn that Elliot Tiber has also written and produced musical comedies”). Mr. Tiber will share many funny and fascinating tales of his life as a gay man both in New York and throughout the world, and will happily answer questions from the audience. Copies of Mr. Tiber’s books PALM TREES ON THE HUDSON and TAKING WOODSTOCK will be made available for purchase at the event through Square One Publishers (www.squareonepublishers.com).
